Registration is online at TNMOT's website. By registering, you are acknowledging you understand and agree to abide by the rules stated herein.

- You are entering this event and painting and/or drawing at your own risk. The National Museum of Transportation will not be responsible for any injury or damage which occurs during this event.
- This event may be photographed and video/sound recorded. You are consenting to being captured in images and video/sound recordings and such images and video/sound recordings may be used by The National Museum of Transportation in social media and promotional materials available to the general public now and in the future.
- You are also giving your permission for the free use of your name, artwork and/or picture by the museum or its agents in any account of this event.
- Email questions to museum@tnmot.org.

2. Location

The National Museum of Transportation is located at 2933 Barrett Station Road, which is the address of our Orthwein Visitor's Center. Artists will be welcome to paint/draw anywhere on the grounds and the Pollinary Park, with the latter acceptable as long as the artists are outside the perimeter of the Pollinary Park and are not obstructing any paths or entrances. Artists may also paint/draw inside the Earl C. Lindburg Automobile Center and the Orthwein Visitor's Center. All artists must use a drop cloth to protect TNMOT's grounds and floors.

3. Artistic Medium

- Any painting or drawing medium on canvas, board, or paper is allowed.
- The back of the canvas, board, or paper will be stamped at the Barrett Station Gift Shop.
- All work is to be completed during the hours of the competition.
- Photography, computer-generated images, and sculpture will not be accepted.

4. Schedule

Check-In:

- Artists should report to the TNMOT's Barrett Station Gift Shop's back deck between 8:30 a.m. – 10:00 a.m. on the day of the event. The Barrett Station Gift Shop is located up the zig-zag path (i.e., southwest) from the Orthwein Visitor's Center. Parking in Entrance/Lot 2 will provide artists the closest proximity to the gift shop, TNMOT's train collection and the Earl C. Lindburg Automobile Center. Entrance/Lot 1 is near the Orthwein Visitor's Center and closer to the Pollinary Park. If Lot 2 is not available due to the Pumpers and Pistons event also occurring on May 21, 2022 (think firetrucks, rescue dogs, etc., so a really fun day), there is fenced overflow parking immediately across Barrett Station Road.

- Artists should bring their canvas, paper, or other support to be stamped by staff.
- Toned supports can be used, but nothing pre-painted, pre-drawn, or in any way begun will be accepted.

Painting Deadline:

- Completed artwork should be returned to the Earl C. Lindburg Automobile Center between 1 p.m. – 3:30 p.m. for display. Artists may want to familiarize themselves with the map of our grounds prior to September 25th. Our tnmot.org website shares our artifact collection.
- Artists should supply an easel to display each piece of artwork if that is desired for presentation. Table easels will be permitted. If the artist does not have a display easel, please contact renee.hughes@tnmot.org so she can try to secure one at the Museum from our limited stock. The artwork will be placed flat on a table if no easels are available.
- Submissions will be limited to three. Staff will assist in setting up the display.

Judging

- Judging will be conducted within two weeks after the event, i.e., by end of day Saturday, June 4, 2022.
- Winners will be announced on the The National Museum of Transportation's Facebook Page and other social media outlets. The winner will be featured in the The National Museum of Transportation's SPOKEN Word E-Newsletter.

5. Sales

- Each piece of artwork must have a title specifying the location of the piece and a price. The artwork will be displayed and considered for sale for a month after the event in the mezzanine of the Earl C. Lindburg Automobile Center which is monitored by tour guides.
- The Museum of Transportation will take a 20% commission on all sales. The commission as well as the registration fees will be applied towards education events at The National Museum of Transportation.
